JOHN M. GUILD WRITES OF C. OF C. MEETING THIS WEEK

Says Maryville Is Up And Coming—Gives Report in Moving Pictures Instead of Figures.

John M. Guild, executive secretary of the Chamber of Commerce of Kansas City who spoke here at the annual meeting April 12 has a note on the meeting in the "Kansas Citian" the official organ of the Chamber, this week. The article is as follows:

The small town is up and coming. The Maryville (Missouri) Chamber of Commerce held its fourteenth annual meeting last week and put into practice the unique idea of presenting its annual report in moving pictures. Not a word was said, about membership, finances or accomplishments by the president or secretary. The pictures did the talking and they told the story well. The Maryville Chamber shows that it is not sufficient unto itself, but that all of Nodaway County is its immediate field with fine stock-raising as a speciality.

Every member of the board of directors of fourteen years ago was present—the men who gave life to the organization that now numbers nearly three hundred members in a town of 4,727 people. The attendance at the annual dinner exceeded the total membership and even then was limited only by the seating capacity of the library of the State Teachers College, where the affair was held.

As evidence that the meeting was more than a local affair there were present delegations from Stanberry, Albany, Hopkins, Pickering, Wilcox, Creston and Kansas City.

BIBLE CLASS COMMITTEE IS CONFERRING WITH ARCHITECT

Concensus Of Opinion That Permanent Structure Should Be Built.

The committee from the men's Bible class of the First Christian Church is conferring with an architect upon plans for a permanent building. In several days a meeting of the building committee, which was appointed by the chairman of the official board and the committee from the Men's Bible class will meet and decide upon definite action. It is the concensus of opinion, that while a building should be built immediately for recreation and class room, it should be a permanent structure that could be used later rather than a temporary affair to be torn down. The room could be built so that it would form a part of an addition to the church with out waste of time or money.

The idea now, is to have plans for a modern Sunday school plant drawn and at this time erect what is feasible. The committee from the Men's Bible class is Lloyd Geist, R. R. Snodgrass, Ralph Palmer, Edward Gray, Frank Orcutt and F. P. Robinson.

JAIL BUSINESS DECREASING SAY PROHIBITIONISTS

Wave of Depression Extends From California to Atlantic Excepting Maryland.

Washington, April 21.—The wave of depression has hit the jail business.

Deets Pickett, research secretary of the board of temperance, prohibition and public morals of the Methodist Episcopal Church, who makes it his business to keep a finger on the pulse of "Old Man Beelzebub," declares that prohibition has hit the jail business a smashing blow.

Pickett bases his claim upon a study of jail statistics in 200 county jails in fourteen states. He admits that the study does not take into consideration crime conditions in the larger cities, but is merely a study of rural and small town crime.

For the purposes of his study Pickett has taken a census of 200 county jails which, he says, "were selected at random, and the reports are intended to give indication as to the effect of prohibition upon rural and small town crime statistics."

Maryland Only Exception.

"The totals show a decided decrease in jail population under prohibition," says Pickett, "except for the State of Maryland, where there is an apparent increase due to the fact that reports for the year preceding prohibition are not complete.

"It is interesting to note that even New Jersey, where the prohibition law has been poorly enforced and where the Governor did everything possible to break down respect for the laws, shows a decided improvement under prohibition."

Wisconsin Improves.

The States in which Pickett made his jail census were California, Connecticut, Deleware, Illinois, Louisiana, Maryland, Massachusetts, Minnesota, Missouri, New Jersey, New York, Pennsylvania, Vermont and Wisconsin.

Pickett's census shows that in these States 200 county jails in 1918 had a net population of 8,251, while in 1920, after the demise of the late lamented J. Barleycorn, the population of these same jails had withered to 5,357.

Giving further evidence of the depression in the jail business, Pickett's report shows that some wardens must be hardpressed for enough work to keep them out of mischief. Twenty-seven jails in California had but 333 prisoners between them in 1920 when Pickett's census was taken, five jails in Connecticut had 287, two jails in Delaware 318, twenty-two in Illinois, 153; seven in Louisiana, 47; two in Maryland, 62; nine in Massachusetts, 332; thirty-four in Minnesota, 237; eighteen in Missouri, 56; eight in New Jersey, 1,511; twenty-three in New York, 262; thirty in Pennsylvania, 1702; two in Vermont, 9, and eleven in Wisconsin, 48.

Pickett reports that the Middlesex County jail of Massachusetts went out of business completely in 1920 and consolidated with another county institution.

Texas with its area of 265,780 square miles (France has only 204,032 without Alsace-Lorraine), compares majectically with Rhode Island's 1,250 square miles.

MUST WAIT SEVEN YEARS FOR PAPERS

Chicago, April 21,—Seven years from now, if he behaves himself, James Harold, alias "Jimmy Vinci," may become an American citizen.

Harold was convicted as driver of the car used by the slayers of "Mossy" Enright, a Chicago labor leader. He came before Judge Harry B. Miller in the Circuit Court in the final hearing on his application for citizenship papers.

"Aren't you the man convicted in the Enright killing?" Judge Miller asked.

"Yes," Harold replied, "but the Supreme Court reversed my case without remanding it. I'm all out of trouble now. I feel I'm entitled to citizenship."

"You are under a wrong impression," the Judge answered. "You'll have to put yourself on probation for seven years. If at the end of that time you have led a clean life you may be able to become a citizen of the United States."

ROMANCE NOT DEAD IN AMERICA

EMINENT NEUROLOGIST BLAMES MARITAL TROUBLE ON MALE

IS PROSAIC HARNESS

Pioneer Couples Didn't Lack Adventure—Recognized Matrimony as Give and Take Affair

Washington, April 21, —In view of amazing social scandals now attracing public attention, Dr. Edward Hiram Reede, distinguished neurologist and writer on psychological subjects, was asked today whether the moral fabric of American society was breaking down. Speaking scientificaly, Dr. Reede declared the ancient institution of marriage "is as safe as it ever was." As for the pessimistic view that romance is dying out in the United States, Dr. Reede said:

"It is typical of the male of the species to demand constancy of his mate, even while he strays. It is masculine egotism.

"Man is proprietary. After he marries he looks upon his wife as property to remain his through life."

American Exhaust Is Humor.

The typical American husband represses his emotions, as does the typical American wife. Dr. Reede says. The typical American husband is usually in revolt against his wife as the censor of his morals, he added, but he disguises this revolt in humor. He makes a "wheeze" or two and relieves his feelings.

"There are no other people in the world as romantic as we are," said the scientist. "Longfellow's idealization of romance as expressed in "The Courtship of Miles Standish" is our guide. The American tradition is that a youth must court only one maid, his idea of womanhood, just as Priscilla was John Alden's idea; give his love to her only and remain constant to her until the end of his days.

Ostracism Promotes Secretiveness.

"In Europe it is accepted that a young man should have his 'affairs' before he settles down. Young fellows in this country sow their wild oats, but they do it in secret. If their dissipation becomes known they are placed outside the pale of respectability by society. After their romantic courtship the typical American couple enter matrimony with the idea that the romance will continue. There are storms until they awaken to the fact that mariage is a matter of give and take. You may remember hearing your grandmother talk of her long courtship We point with pride to the pioneer family. The pioneer couple didn't lack romance; it had the good sence to recognize matrimony as a give and take affair.

"The average American woman is content if her man brings home the booty he acquires in the world of business and remains constant.

"Our Puritanical spirit may bring criticism and jest, our Longfellow ideal of romance may be called sentimental slush, but they are the things that have given us our civilization. In my opinion it is a sturdy civilization. It is the basement upon which we have built our society."

Dreamers Should Desist.

Dr. Reede admitted that harsh things may be said about marriage He conceded that it becomes a prosaic harness to people of imagination, but he predicted that young people will con tinue for generations to marry in the same old way, and there'll be the same old wheeze in the American comics about "boss's wife" and "friend mother-in-law."

"About the worst thing that may be said about marriage is that it enslaves the woman," said Dr. Reede.

"Even though women gain more freedom, in my opinion they will always have to suppress their individuality in marriage. It seems necessary for the success of marriage and the welfare of the family. A man's faith in the woman he marries is the only surety that he is the father of the family."

CAN'T JOIN HER HUSBAND

After baking bread for nine armies which crossed and recrossed her country during the World war, Mrs. Chaya Menkes, wife of an American citizen, is being held at Ellis island because of a false vise on her passport. Mrs Menkes lived in Galicia during the war. One of her daughters was killed by the Polish soldiers, Mrs. Menkes said, and she had to bake bread for each army in succession to support herself. On April 5, Mirsch Isaac Menkes, husband of the detained woman, became a United States citizen. But he is still unable to claim his wife and children, Feiga, aged eleven, and David, fifteen.

HARVARD "MURPHYS" MAY NOW COLLECT

Cambridge, Mass., April 21,—The Harvard "Murphys" are to collect. The committee in charge of the scholarship founded by the late W. S. Murphy, of Boston, have just awarded several of them to students who bear the names of the donor, in accordance with the decree of his will.

Frederick J. Murphy, of South Boston, a first-year student. In the Graduate School of Education Norman B. Murphy, of Augusta, Ga.; James B. Murphy of Cambridge, and Richard T. Murphy of Dorchester, are the recipients. Hugh C. Murphy, Jr., and John Murphy, who are to take the Harvard exams to enter next Fall, will get these awards providing they pass.

BURGLARIZED ONE NIGHT —HELD UP THE NEXT

Chicago, April 21.—Just twenty-four hours after their home had been burglarized to the extent of 2,000, two bandits held up Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Ferguson and drove away in their new $5,000 motor car. The machine was recovered along with $8,000 in gems the two hold-up victims had hidden.

Miss M. M. Donahue, 724 N. Mulberry St., Maryville, says: "Several years ago my back caused me a great deal of trouble and I felt miserable and worn out. Sharp shooting pains often caught me in the small of my back. As the days went by my back was very lame and sore and occasionally dizzy spells came over me and left me in a weak condition. A friend advised me to try Doa'ns Kidney Pills and two boxes not only brought great relief, but completely cured me. Buy Your Coal Direct From Mine--Big Saving

The high cost of coal is a thing of the past! At least, there are no complaints on this account—since the removal of government restrictions—among those who have learned how to buy coal. The way to buy coal is to get it direct from the mines. This saves several middlemen's profits. It saves hauling expenses. Anyone can now buy at mine prices, whether a car load buyer or one who uses only ten or fifteen tons a year. This has been made possible through a plan evolved by a large and old-established concern, THE BERNICE COAL COMPANY, with main offices at 559 Como Building, Chicago.

This company has thousands of customers in various sections of the United States who receive all of their coal direct from the mines. These customers are pleased not only because of the many dollars they save every year, but also because of the quality of coal they are getting. Many write that they never before had coal that makes so little dust, that burns so well, leaving so few ashes. If you are a coal user—whether you use hard or soft coal, much or little—it will be greatly to your advantage to write the Bernice Coal Co. at once for prices, stating kind and quantity of coal you use.

STATE OFFICIALS AFTER CAR OWNERS

Secretary of State Charles U. Becker Plans to Send Special Agents Into Every County in Missouri.

Jefferson City, April 21.—Charles U. Becker, secretary of state, who is charged with the collection of the automobile license fees, is reported on the highest authority as planning to send special agents into each county in the state to aid in collecting evidences against motor car owners who have not yet taken out licenses. Jesse W. Barrett, attorney general, admitted he had given an official opinion that such a course is permissable.

Mr. Becker declined to affirm or deny the rumor. He said "publicity at this time would interfere with our plans, perhaps."

There has been collected to date, only about 60 per cent of the license money, it is estimated and reports from all sections of the state indicate that local authorities have become active in arresting delinquents. A recent census taken on the main thoroughfare at Springfield showed less than 25 per cent of nearly 100 cars counted as bearing new 1921 license tags and similar counts of which Mr. Becker has been informed show a large percentage of delinquents.

Collections for 1920 totaled $2,111,696.85 from approximately 300,000 motor car owners. It is believed that number that should be registered this year is in excess of 350,000 cars and the collections are expected to amount to more than $2,500,000 when they are all received.

Walter Steininger, in charge of the motor vehicle registration department, sent out two weeks ago, instructions to all county officials to begin drives against delinquents but the campaign has not produced the desired results.

WIFE'S FAULT WHEN KNOCKED ABOUT SAYS MAGISTRATE

Man No Longer Master In His Own Home—Woman Promises To Love, Honor, Obey.

London, April 21—"I have invariably found that where a man knocks his wife about it is the wife's fault," said Mr. Symmons, the Clerkenwell Magistrate, during the hearing of a case where a woman had charged her husband with assault.

A man commented Mr. Symmons, is no longer master in his own home. A woman promised to "love, honor and obey," but obedience could not be enforced.

"Under the good old law," he said, "a man could thrash his wife so long as the stick were no thicker then his thumb. But now the law was weak-kneed, and we had instead those miserable, maintenance orders and there was no domestic happiness."

It doesn't take an X-ray to see the bones in a crapshooter's hand.

MUSIC HATH CHARMS, BUT NOT FOR HIM

Detroit, April 21,—Although Mrs. Ernest Benjamin, under the name of Alma M. Sanders, of No. 219 West Forty-sixth street, New York, is the author of more than thirty published love songs, she failed to hold the affections of her husband.

Benjamin, who has brought suit for divorce, told Judge Dingeman that "music broke up his home." He testified in court that Mrs. Benjamin kept late hours and often did not return home until 3 a. m. She refused to cook his breakfast, he charged. Mrs. Sanders wrote "Tumble Down Shack of Athlone," "Some Pet," and "Lavender and Lace" and many other popular songs.

Mrs. Ralph Kusitzky o f Winner, S. Dak. arrived in Maryville last night for a visit with her grandmother, Mrs. M. E. Farrar. Mrs. Kusitzky will be remembered here as Miss Mildred Young.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Young of Bedison are in Maryville today on business.

ABLE TO DO HER WORK

After Long Suffering Mrs. Siefert Was Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Pottsville, Pa.—"I suffered with female trouble for four or five years and was very irregular. I was not fit to do my work at times and took medicine from a doctor and got no benefit. I saw Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound advertised in the newspapers and took it and got all right. I gained twenty pounds or more and am now able to do my work. I recommend the Vegetable Compound to my friends and you may use these facts as a testimonial."—Mrs. SALLIE SIEFERT, 313 W. Fourth Street, Pottsville, Pa.

The everyday life of many housewives is a continual struggle with weakness and pain. There is nothing more wearing than the ceaseless round of household duties and they become doubly hard when some female trouble makes every bone and muscle ache, and nerves all on edge.

If you are one of these women do not suffer for four or five years as Mrs. Siefert did, but profit by her experience and be restored to health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

SPIRITS MOVE HOUSEHOLD GOODS

COAL IS FLOATED FROM CELLAR TO FIRST FLOOR

BROOMSTICKS JUMP

None of Family Connected With Spiritualistic Society—Reason Strange Happenings Unknown

London, April 21—Very extraordinary and strange things have happened in a North London house recently.

Loud explosions like bombs have been heard, lumps of coal have been unaccountably propelled by some unknown agency in all directions, brooms have flown violently from a landing into the kitchen, while glass and china have been smashed and windows broken.

A boy sitting on a chair was raised with the chair from the ground.

The occupyer of the house, a Mr. Frost, gave an interesting account of the household's uncanny experiences.

"The disturbance," he said, "started about a month ago, when we heard a series of loud explosions coming from the coal cellar. We went down into the cellar and found that the coal had been thrown about in all directions. Thinking that perhaps there was something the matter with the coal, we removed it from the cellar into the garden, which is at the back of the house.

"At 8 o'clock the next morning the whole family, there are no servants kept, was seated at breakfast. There was a sudden crash, and coal was found on the first floor landing.

"So it has gone on. We have ordered fresh coal, but, with brief intervals of peace, coal is projected from somewhere from any and every direction apparently, smashing gas globes, vases and china.

Up to a little while ago it was only coal that had been the chief centre of disturbances, but now there is another development.

"One Sunday while I was at church," said Mr. Frost, "my son was at home in the kitchen and without the slightest warning he saw the rise and fall several times, and some long brooms that were just outside the kitchen door came flying into the room at him.

"On the following day we were at tea," he continued, "when the plates in front of my sons rose up off the table and fell without breaking."

These are but some of the strange things that have happened in the house.

According to Mr. Frost, when the elder boy was out of the house nothing happened, and he also says that when these manifestations occur they coincide with the presence of some youthful member of the household.

None of the family are connected in any way with any spiritualistic society and the question is being freely asked all over the district; in fact over London, as to what can be the possible reason for these strange happenings.

If the theory of an unknown force is accepted, then the utter want of purpose or meaning in the manifestations has to be admitted. But this lack of meaning may well be an argument in favor as to their genuineness.

Meanwhile the Society for Physical Research is investigating the strange happenings, and their finding is being eagerly awaited by the whole of spiritualistic London.

FAMOUS DRAMATIST FOR OUR CHAUTAUQUA

Bertha Kunz Baker, Asknowledged Leader In Her Art.

Bertha Kunz Baker, American drama recitalist, who is to be one of the attractions on our Chatauqua this summer, has created a field of art in which she stands the acknowledged leader.

She interprets great dramas, not only for the beauty and joy of them but for the part they play in organising social consciousness into a definite constructive force. She believes that art should stimulate clearer vision, truer feeling, gentler and more generous action—to bring harmony and beauty and joy into everyday life.

Critics comment on "her scholarly mind, sympathetic heart, glorious voice, masterful and exquisite art;" "her delicious and contageous spirit of comedy;" "her method, so simple that it is difficult to tell how she creates her tremendous efforts."

The drama which she will present this summer will be announced later.

QUICK TO SOLVE PROBLEMS

According to Woodsmen, the Wolf Is Capable of Displaying Sagacity That Is Wonderful.

A correspondent having written a letter to the Star expressing doubt as to the truth of the story that wolves, having chased a man up a tree, went away and brought back a beaver to cut down the tree for them so they could get the man, we have been much impressed by the number of witnesses, especially old-timers in New Ontario, who are sending us letters tending to add authenticity to the story.

Wild animals, these witnesses declare, are strong in instinct, and work out problems instantly which one would suppose could only be done by arithmetic. In one letter the writer, who lives in the Cochrane district, gives his theory as to the manner in which the wolves got the beaver to the tree. According to the story, a dozen wolves went off on this errand. This number was in order that they might kill a deer, and use its hide as a toboggan on which to haul the beaver to the spot and take him back again after he had felled the tree for them. This theory must be accepted as ingenious and interesting.—Kansas City Star.

Can Place Maids Who Rouge as Well as Plain Ones Some Like Them

Joliet, April 21—Rouge, lipstick and half-hose are no barriers to applicants for positions as housemaids, according to Mrs. Catherine Langdon in charge of the woman's division of the Illinois employment bureau here.

"Maids who rouge their cheeks, paint their lips, roll their silk stockings and have their eyebrows plucked find places as rapidly as do the sombre gowned girls of yesterday," declared Mrs. Langdon.

"Although reports have reached us that the housewives have said they would rather get along without help than employ these dolled up beauties we have no complaint from those we have placed.

"The girl who cannot only cook attractively but look attractive is a welcome addition to Joliet homes, and the good wages paid her are often an inducement to adorn herself and make the most of her charms."

News From D. A. R. Convention.

Washington, April 19.—Forty-two delegates attended the state meeting of the Missouri Daughters of the American Revolution this afternoon. They were here attending the continuous congress of the society, and this was a "love feast," as Mrs. John T. Rigg Moss, state regent, termed it.

Mrs. Moss presided and invited Mrs. Paul Kitt of Chillicothe, state regent-elect; Mrs. George Edward George of Kansas City, retiring state regent; Mrs. Marris of Sedalia, state vice regent-elect, and Mrs. Selden P. Spencer, chaplain general, to sit with her on the platform. Mrs. Lawrence McDaniel of St. Louis acted as recording secretary.

A proposal to establish a school in the Ozarks was discussed. An offer of the property for it had already been made. No action was taken.

The candidacy of Mrs. Moss for vice president general of the national body, and ways and means for furthering it, were discussed.

Mrs. Moss announced that she had a magnificent silk state flag to present to Contental Hall to replace the old worn one that now hangs there. She also has a book published in 1776 and a cane that was carried by a signer of the Declaration of Independence to present to the D. A. R. Museum here. They are gifts of Missouri daughters.

Mrs. Spencer invited the delegation at a tea which she will give at the Congressional Club Saturday afternoon. She also has invited the state delegation in the United States Congress.

Thursday evening a dinner will be given in honor of Mrs. Moss, retiring state regent, by the Missouri delegates. Senator Spencer and Representative Newton are to speak.

MORE LUXURIES THAN EDUCATION

10 TIMES AMOUNT SPENT FOR COSMETICS AND TOBACCO

BACKS UP ARGUMENT

American People Spent Billion For Jewelry in 1920—"Joy Rides" And Racing Too

Washington April 21.—Ten times as much money every year for luxuries as for education!

That is what is wrong with the educational system in the United States according to Dr. P. P. Claxton, United States Commissioner of Education, who, on the eve of the assembling of the new Congress under a brand new administration has deemed the time propitious to invite attention to the fact that American women spend each year almost as much for perfume, powder and cosmetics as is spent in the whole country on public instruction.

"We think we believe in education," said Dr. Claxton. We talk much about it and many of us have believed that we pay much for it; that it in fact constitutes a very great burden if indeed it is not our chief burden. No doubt we do believe in education in a way, but we have not and do not pay much for it."

Spent Less Than Billion.

Dr. Claxton backs up his argument that we pay very little for public education with some rather startling and illuminating figures. For instance, in 1918, the last year on which figures are available, he shows that the total expenditure for public education in the United States was somewhat less than $1,000,000,000. Figuring on the basis of 100,000,000 population, that amounts to about $10 a head.

Two years later, according to Dr. Claxton, in 1920, American women spent on face powder, perfume and cosmetics alone the not inconsiderable sum of $750,000,000, while American men (and women, too, it is presumed) spend on cigarettes the sum of $800,000,000. For cigars there went $510,000,000 and for tobacco in other forms another $800,000,000, making in all $2,100,000,000 which went for tobacco in a single year, or more than twice the amount that was expended on education.

Luxuries Outdistance Learning.

The American people spent half a billion for jewelry in 1920 while they were spending a billion for education and in these dry and arid days $350,000,000 went for soft drinks.

But bad as these figures may seem worse are to come. For "luxurious service"—whatever that may mean—Americans got rid of some $3,000,000,000 last year, and for "joy rides" "pleasure resorts and racing" a like amount. Even ice cream and chewing gum have not escaped Dr. Claxton's indicting calculation, and his arithmetic discloses that $250,000,000 was spent for ice cream and $50,000,000 for chewing gum.

"It is interesting," continues Dr. Claxton, "to compare some of these items with the expenditures for education. The amount paid for face powder, cosmetics and perfume is only $12,000,000 less than the total amount expended for public elementary and secondary education in 1918, and within $50,000,000 of twice the total amount of salaries paid teachers in public elementary and secondary schools.

Teachers' Pay Less Than Jewel Sales

"The amount paid for jewelry is nearly $100,000,000 more than the salaries of teachers iin elementary and high schools in 1918 and is more than the total of productive funds of all endowed colleges and universities in that year.

"The $50,000,000 for chewing gum is two and a half times the total expenditures for normal schools and almost exactly the same as all State and city appropriations for higher education.

Fur Sales Greater.

"The $300,000,000 which went for furs last year is more than twice the cost of all higher education and the $350,000,000 paid for soft drinks is more than two and a half times as much. It is more than the total value of college and university buildings, including dormitories, in 1918.

"Suppose that in some moment of high enthusiasm and patriotic devotion the people who use tobacco had agreed among themselves to smoke two cigarettes instead of three, two cigars instead of three, and had paid to the support of the schools the money thus saved for the year, the salaries of teachers in schools of all grades, public and private, could have been increased by more than 120 per cent.

"For tobacco in various forms we paid more than we have paid for higher education since the founding of Harvard College in Massachusetts and William and Mary in Virginia."

Buster is not a very speedy steed, but he has one great virtue—he's old enough to be safe, three centuries old, to be exact. For Buster, a Galapagos turtle, is the largest and probably the oldest living land tortoise in the world. His present residence is in the Bronx zoological gardens, New York.

JAZZ AND LONDON TO BE DIVORCED

London, April 21.—Jazz and London are to know each other no more. The shimmy s. , is likewise to go.

The golliwog glide, the alligator azzle, brontosaurus bump, and every other variety of shake, wiggle and glide have been tabooed in New York, but London has not gone quite so far.

London dancing instructors this season will taboo wriggly, squirming jazz and shimmey shake from their curriculum.

Dancing classes in future will be nothing but waltz banquets with perhaps an occasional fox trot thrown in.

There is , however, one ray of hope for the confirmed jazzer. He or she will not have to ape his or her Victorian ancestors by waltzing all night and day, as it has been decided that the straight one-step, and the fox-trot, without the animal named variations, will be permitted.

In the place of "Alabama Madness" we shall have the piano, the violin and the—gramophone—dreamily offering up their sacrifice to Bacchus in the shape of "The Blue Danube."

PURSUE FLEEING BOY WHO TURNS OUT GIRL

Boston, April 21.—Pursuing a "youth" attired in khaki breeches, sweater and cap and smoking a cigarette, who arroused his suspicions, Patrolman Fitzpatrick, of the Somerville police, was startled when the cap fell off and long blond hair fell about the supposed youth's shoulders.

Then the disguise was explained. The "boy" proved to be seventeen-year-old Virginia Girard, on parole from one of the State industrial institutions.
